

Devotionals

Take some special time to be with God, in the morning or in the evening, individually or as part of a married couple or family group, and reflect on aspects of Christ's character and how He wants us to live our lives on earth. Reading a daily spiritual devotional is a great stimulus to prayer and helps us to delve deeper into the Bible. Here is a rich and varied selection for you to choose from – for this year, next year, and more after that; for yourself, for your church, and for your friends and family!

24-7-365

This is the year you'll read your Bible through and then wonder why you've never read it all the way through before. Of course, it helps to crawl into Dwain Esmond's head and watch how things play out from his inimitable perspective (go ahead, look it up!), which makes it almost painless!

Seriously, you'll encounter some people in the Bible who act just like people you know: people who asked hard questions and dealt with some of the very same issues you struggle with. And, through it all, God's tough decisions reveal a Creator deeply invested in His creation. (Yeah, God's faced some pretty hairy situations too. Remember, He's working with humans here.)

Christ Triumphant

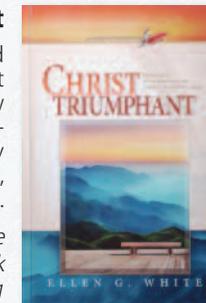

This daily devotional from the pen of Ellen G. White traces the hand of God from Eden to eternity. The first sentence, and the last, is that God is love. But in between is pain, perplexity, and heartbreak. How can we understand the ways of God in the world? Here is a behind-the-scenes look at some of the pivotal events in salvation history that shed light on the great controversy between good and evil, with practical applications that enrich the soul and renew the heart.

Compassion

In today's social media-obsessed world, we've gotten used to quick, efficient, and precise information. Using the Cliff Notes approach for quick learning is embraced by many for the sake of efficiency. There is little patience for the digging deep into the truth that really tells the whole story. But wisdom is knowing when to get the bullet points and synthesis, and when to dive in to the world of the story.

'Dancing in the Desert' Devotional Bible (NLT)

Stories of Scripture are often portrayed two-dimensionally, making people in the Bible seem familiar, predictable, even flat. We don't always read their stories with much awareness of the pressures they faced, the doubts they had, the assumptions they made, or the alternatives they chose. The Dancing in the Desert Devotional Bible in the New Living Translation (NLT) encourages us to take an honest look at the people in the Bible.

From the Heart

Ellen G. White's regular contact with Seventh-day Adventist church members during much of her ministry was through the articles she wrote for the various church journals. Woven throughout every message was her earnest desire to lead searching hearts and minds to Jesus and to prepare each believer for His soon return. Drawn exclusively from those thousands of articles, her words of encouragement, guidance, and caution will inspire you to an ever closer walk with God.

Getting Through

Stunned by his untimely death, family and friends struggle to cope, to understand, and even to grieve. In the midst of the turmoil, New Haven's highly respected youth leader receives a disturbing phone call. . . . His past has finally caught up with him. Will his marriage survive the tempest? What about the young men he mentors – will they ever trust him again? Broken and weary, each person must chart their own course towards strength, hope, and healing. For some it's a path that sends them stumbling straight into God's open arms. For others it's an uncertain journey filled with winding detours. But Sunday morning is coming, and with it a spectacular promise.

God's Amazing Grace

Ellen White described grace as 'an attribute of God exercised towards undeserving human beings. We did not seek after it, but it was sent in search of us' (The Ministry of Healing, p. 161). She was overwhelmed by the thought that God in His infinite love has extended grace to beings who are in rebellion against Him.

The Gospel From Patmos

The Gospel From Patmos is unlike anything previously written on Revelation, the Bible's last book. Jon Paulien draws from the Apocalypse practical, everyday insights for living. In this devotional the focus is not on the signs of the end, or searching for the order of events in the last days of earth's history. Occasionally the author examines ways of better understanding the prophetic teaching of the book. But the primary goal is to look for the 'Revelation of Jesus Christ' in the kind of insight for daily living that can get saints ready for what is to come.

He Taught Love

Ellen G. White (1827-1915) was undoubtedly the most influential Seventh-day Adventist in the history of the church. She and her husband, James, provided strong leadership as the church was founded and organised in the mid-1800s. Her personal presence and her writings did much to shape and guide Adventism during her seven decades of prophetic ministry. Since her death in 1915 her counsel and insights have continued to direct the Adventist Church. Today millions look to her writings for guidance and motivation.

Jesus Wins!

The story is told about a boy who loved and admired the main hero in a book series. He had just bought the latest volume and realised that this book was very different! Unlike the previous books, this time his hero was being beaten and seemed to be losing! Not very far into the book, the boy couldn't take it any more, and, holding his breath, went straight to the last chapter. With trembling hands, he turned to the last page and read the last paragraph. And there, in the last sentences of the story, he discovered that, despite the many seeming defeats, his hero was the victor after all and the villain was destroyed. Now that he knew the ending, he was at peace and went back to the place where he had left off and continued reading the book.

Love You More
 'Love you more' is often our response when someone says, 'I love you.' It's another way of saying, 'I love you more than you can imagine.' Have you ever wondered if that's how God feels about us? Thousands of years ago God put it in writing, so to speak, when He gave Jeremiah these words: 'Yes, I have loved you with an everlasting love; Therefore with lovingkindness I have drawn you' (Jeremiah 31:3, NKJV).

Music Devotion

It is said that while you may not remember a word, a song will stay with you for a lifetime. I remember when I first heard The Supremes sing, 'You Can't Hurry Love'. I was spellbound that Sunday afternoon, listening to the 'Ferguson' gram in my mother's sitting room. The haunting, repeated melodies grabbed me, and like any other good song it was written with a hook that demanded attention. This devotional is a compilation of the thoughts of people who are passionate about music. It tells their stories about songs which have had a profound effect on their lives.

Sensational "Quotational" Devotional

Sometimes quotes can be funny. Sometimes they can be inspiring. Sometimes they are famous. And sometimes they make us stop and think. Each daily devotion in the Sensational "Quotational" Devotional begins with a quotation. You will recognise some of them, such as: 'Curiosity killed the cat', and 'Cleanliness is next to godliness'. Some of them won't be as recognisable: 'I grew up like a neglected weed, ignorant of liberty', or 'The greatest healing therapy is friendship and love', but all are meant to make you stop and think, to examine your values and the choices you make each and every day. Most of these quotes are by famous people. Some of them were by someone too insignificant to remember.
